The people you meet,
And the smiles you make,
Are more important
Than the items you take.
The laughter you bring
To those you love,
Will forever ring,
From Heaven above.
We'll miss you so much,
But we'll see you again,
And we'll feel your touch,
Together in Heaven.

Resident of the Month

William (Bill) VanWey

William (Bill) VanWey was born, August 24th, 1934; on a farm Ionia, Kansas. He lived with his three brothers, and five sisters.

When Bill got older, he met his wife Delores, and together they had five children, three sons, and two daughters.

A truck driver for over forty years, Bill stepped into to his dad's boots. "My dad was a truck driver," says Bill when asked why he persued this career. "It is something I always liked to do, that's the reason I did it."

In his later years, Bill enjoys to play with his 14 grandkids and his greatgrand kids. Also playing pitch with his friends and family. He still enjoys the outdoors, goes out frequently on nice days to play his word search or just get some fresh air.

Bill is always full of stories and has a great sense of humor. He likes to keep the staff on their feet. We enjoy having Bill as a member of our family.

Independence Day

By CJH

Tonight I see the
Fireworks in the Sky,
As I do
Every Fourth of July.
We “ooh” and “ahh”
At the sonic boom,
Our eyes grow round
As the midnight moon.
And the colors cascade
Down through the sky,
A waterfall of colors
So pleasing to the eye.
Our happiness eludes
The terrifying thought,
The ‘booms’ use to be
The enemy’s bombs.
Remember as we play
Throughout this fair night,
The rocket’s red glare
Was a terrifying sight.
Let us always remember
As we watch our children play,
At what they have given us,
On this, our Independence
Day!
